WHO WE ARE

For over 60 years the Sunley name has been synonymous with Real Estate developments across the UK and the rest of the world.

Over the past decade the SPS team have been assisting clients to realise their bespoke property visions, making them a reality.

We listen to our clients, and tailor our services to support their needs. Whether it be internal refurbishment or a complete new build - the SPS team provide guidance and advice throughout the process, ensuring the client has clarity and control.

YOUR JOURNEY, OUR PROCESS

Having been developing and delivering projects for three generations, we have built up a knowledge base and network that gives us a unique insight into the entire development process. We work with the best architects and designers, utilising our experience in project management and delivery with our most trusted contractors to ensure clients get the benefit of a business that's been operating in this sector for over 60 years.

"From our first meeting, the SPS team worked tirelessly to deliver our vision. They built a team that best suited the project, and then managed the process throughout. They gave us a clear understanding of the entire process and provided solutions to make what felt like a daunting project, an enjoyable one."

PRIVATE FAMILY, HAMPSHIRE

"SPS, led by Rob Taylor, assisted us with the acquisition of the project in Mayfair, guided us through planning and oversaw all elements of the construction and delivery. The SPS team have assisted for several years across our portfolio, providing cost, time and quality assurance on all our schemes in London, the home counties and overseas."
